

Make up Exercise

A Read through the meanings of make up and translate the examples.

	Definition	Translation
• Make up for	recover lost time
• Make it up	tell a lie
• Make-up on	wear cosmetics
• Make it up to	do something to say sorry
• Make it up with	make friends again after an argument

B Fill the gaps with for, it, on, to and with.

- I had flu and so now I have to make up lost time at work.
- Marta and Roger got divorced. Then, they made it up each other and got married again.
- She leads such a healthy life that she never needs to put any make-up
- Do you think he's telling the truth or making up?
- I'm sorry I couldn't go to their wedding. I'm not sure how to make it up them.
- Have you made it up your parents-in-law after that row you had with them?
- I don't think it's true about María and Bob. I think they're making up.
- Sorry I had to cancel dinner. I promise I'll make it up you.
- She's stressed out and smokes all the time. That's why she's always got a lot of make-up
- I made an effort to make it up him after our argument but I don't think I'll ever trust him again.
- We could have another English class on Thursday to make up lost time.

C Now make up some examples of your own.

-
-
-
-

Answers

- 1 I had flu and so now I have to make up for lost time at work.
- 2 Marta and Roger got divorced. Then, they made up with each other and got married again.
- 3 She leads such a healthy life that she never needs to put any make-up on.
- 4 Do you think he's telling the truth or making it up?
- 5 I'm sorry I couldn't go to their wedding. I'm not sure how to make it up to them.
- 6 Have you made it up with your parents-in-law after that row you had with them?
- 7 I don't think it's true about Maria and Bob. I think they're making it up.
- 8 Sorry I had to cancel dinner. I promise I'll make it up to you.
- 9 She's stressed out and smokes all the time.. That's why she's always got a lot of make-up on.
- 10 I made an effort to make up with him after our argument but I don't think I'll ever trust him again.
- 11 We could have another English class on Thursday to make up for lost time.

